Ossian, one of the most exciting of Scotland's traditionally-oriented bands, makes its first Washington-area appearance, Friday, October 19th, in an 8:30 pm FSGW concert at Bradley Hills Presbyterian Church, 6601 Bradley Blvd., Bethesda, Md.

Ossian has been compared favorably with the Tannahill Weavers and has been called "an acoustic Battlefield Band." The group's records and performances have been cited for their delicacy, musicality, diversity, drive, precision and charm.

The five members of Ossian play fiddles, flute, bodhran, Celtic harp, guitars, tiple, and cittern. They also provide first-rate vocals, and choose many fine songs and ballads to perform. Their arrangements blend intricate instrumental accompaniments with clean, clear singing and stark, striking harmonies. The past few years have been likened to a "golden age" of Scottish folksinger Jean Redpath is featured in a concert marking the 20th Anniversary of the Folklore Society's first concert, at 8:30 pm, Friday, October 26th, at the Herbert Hoover Auditorium, in the Department of Commerce Building, 14th and Constitution Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C.

Scotland's foremost traditional singer, Jean's reputation extends worldwide. She has appeared at sold-out concerts throughout the United States and has made several appearances on "Prairie Home Companion." Her love of her country's history, customs, and songs is evident in her performances.

The concert's entrance is on 14th St., between Penn. Ave. and Constitution. Admission is $5. (FSGW members) and $7. (nonmembers). Mail-order tickets are available from FSGW Tickets, P.O.Box 7253, Arlington, VA 22207. Please specify the Redpath concert (to avoid confusion with the Gordon Bok concert) and include a stamped-self addressed-envelope and your phone number(s). Orders received after Oct. 20th will be held at the door.
GETAWAY XX OCTOBER 12-14

Registrations have been pouring in and it's almost time to pack the instruments and stuff into the car (or boat) and go! If you have not registered for the entire weekend, join us as a daytime registrant. Advance Daytime Registration form was in last month's Newsletter. Or, you can come to the camp Friday night for the dance party ($4/member $5/nonmember) or Saturday or Sunday ($8/member; $10/nonmember; ages 2-15 half price; under age two free) --or all three-- and register and pay there.

If you are coming for the daytime only you will need to provide your own meals. Friday night's festivities include a pot-luck supper; use of the kitchen for refrigerating or warming prepared dishes will be available FRIDAY ONLY. There are restaurants and grocery stores within a few miles of the camp; some information about this will be available at the registration desk.

If you are registered for the entire weekend you should be receiving a confirmation letter with more detailed information any day now.

To reach Camp Lettis from the D.C. area, take Route 50 EAST (towards Annapolis) to the Davidsonville exit (Route 242). Follow to Davidsonville (first traffic light), and turn left onto Route 214. This will take you to the camp, which is a right fork in the road after you pass route 468 and route 2. Watch for signs. Plan to carpool if this is feasible. REMEMBER: NO PETS OR ALCOHOL!

STORYTELLER MAGGI PEIRCE OCT 15

On Monday, October 15th, Belfast-born singer and storyteller Maggi Kerr Peirce will present a special evening of stories, recitations, and parlor songs in an FSGW house concert at the home of Joe and Kathy Hickerson in Takoma Park, MD. Born in Belfast in 1931, Maggi has lived in Stockholm, Amsterdam, London, and Edinburgh; she currently lives in New Bedford, Massachusetts.

Half of Maggi's program for FSGW will be devoted to the telling and reading of traditional and original stories; the other half will be spent recounting the recitations and parlor songs Maggi remembers from her Belfast childhood. Many of Maggi's delightful rhymes and stories have been published by Appletree Press in the book, Keep the Kettle Boiling, which will be available at the concert.

The program will begin at 8 pm, half an hour earlier than FSGW weekend concerts. For more information or directions, call Kathy or Joe at (301) 587-1462 (evenings, weekends). Admission is $4. for FSGW members and $5. for nonmembers.

SEA-SONGSTER ERIK I LOTT OCT. 28

From across the sea --Bristol, England-- comes the pleasure of Erik Ilott's songs, music and tales on Sunday, October 28th at 8 pm in a house concert in McLean, Virginia.

Erik sailed with the Royal and Merchant Navies, and is official Shantyman to the "Bristol Shiplowers Society," formed in 1931 for men who have served under sail. He sings shanties, forebitters, ward-room songs, and many other songs associated with the sea. He accompanies himself on banjo and concertina and plays the bosun's call and bones (seven at a time!)

Erik is also a gifted storyteller, presenting tales of the seas and the men who sailed them with wit and knowledge. His two recordings, Shipshape and Bristol Fashion, and The Dockyard Gate have sold in 18 countries.

Erik's warmth and humor, his songs, stories and music will provide a most entertaining evening. The house concert will be held at the home of Ursy Potter and Carter Hearn in McLean, VA. (Just a few blocks from the Beltway, and about the second exit in VA from the Cabin John Bridge).

Admission is $4. for FSGW members and $5. for nonmembers. Call Ursy and Carter for directions and further information at (703)821-1373.
Ossian Is Ranked With the Best Scottish Bands

Scottish music, with many groups producing music of high energy and quality, but most observers agree that Ossian belongs in the list of truly great Scottish bands.

Admission to the concert is $4. for FSGW members and $6. for non-members. Join us for a fine evening’s entertainment, part of our 20th Anniversary celebration.

20TH ANNIVERSARY CONCERT SERIES

To celebrate its 20th Anniversary as a Washington community arts organization, FSGW will sponsor a special series of free community folk music concerts at Glen Echo Park this month. The concerts will feature performers who are long-time friends of the Society, and whose music has been a continuing force in FSGW’s efforts to preserve and promote the traditional folk arts in the Washington area.

All concerts in the series will begin at 2 pm, and will be held in the Bumper Car Pavilion at the Park. The concert schedule is:

Sunday, Oct. 7-Singer John Jackson of Fairfax Station, Va., presenting the country blues that have made him a favorite of Washington audiences for many years. An honorary member of FSGW, John has appeared for the Society at many concerts and at the Washington Folk Festival at Glen Echo.

Sunday, Oct. 14-Washington's "labor troubador," Joe Glazer. A longtime member of FSGW, Joe writes and sings songs of workers and their causes. The owner of local "Collector" record company, Joe has done much to preserve and make available the songs of the labor movement. He has appeared many times at the Washington Folk Festival and at other FSGW events.

Sunday, Oct. 21-Fiddler Gus Meade, along with the Snuffy Smith Bridge Club, will present a toe-tapping afternoon of old-timey tunes and songs. A longtime performer and collector of folk music, Gus is a former Program Chair of the Folklore Society, and was the originator of the "Barn Dance" evenings held by FSGW in its early years.

Sunday, Oct. 28-The powerful singing of Helen Schneyer, one of the founding members of the Folklore Society, has been an important influence on many FSGW members throughout the Society's 20 years. Helen sings ballads, broadsides, hymns, mining songs, and Victorian parlor songs in a voice you won't forget. She has appeared at the Washington Folk Festival and in many other concerts for FSGW.

BOK CONCERT TICKETS ON SALE

Songwriter, singer and storyteller Gordon Bok returns for a solo FSGW concert at 8:30 pm, Saturday, November 10, at Gaston Hall, Georgetown University. Advance tickets are available by mail from FSGW Tickets, P.O.Box 7253, Arlington, Virginia 22207. Enclose a check or money order made out to FSGW, and a stamped-self-addressed-envelope, and specify members' names when ordering tickets at members' prices ($5. for FSGW members, $7. for nonmembers) Please enclose a phone number that you can be reached at in case of any questions or problems concerning your order. Be sure to specify Bok tickets instead of Redpath tickets. (see p.1) And if ordering for both, please send separate checks.

More FSGW News

OPEN SING

October's Open Sing topic will be "Waltzing with Bears and Other Chorus Songs." Sing leader Jennifer Woods requires that all the songs have choruses, and "the longer, the better," she says. The Sing will begin at 8:30 pm, Friday, October 5th, at the Washington Ethical Society auditorium, 7750 16th St., N.W. Admission is $2 which includes light refreshments.

The November Open Sing will flow with the topic "Rivers, Creeks, Lakes, Streams, Canals, and Other Tributaries," lead by Carly Gewirz Mackall.

GOSPEL SING

The FSGW monthly Gospel Sing will defer in October to the Getaway. Gospelers should be at Camp Letts at 10 am Sunday, October 14th to sing under the leadership of Wally Macnow. Even if you can't stay for the whole weekend, sign up as a day registrant ($8. for members) and make it for at least this one highlight.
Join the Sacred Harp Sing at the home of Marian Mitchell in Rosslyn, Virginia on Sunday, October 28th, at 4 pm. Singing is first from the Original Sacred Harp itself, and after a potluck supper moves to Christian Harmony. Bring something for the potluck supper. Books are available and newcomers are always welcome. For further information and/or directions, call Marian at 522-1505.
