Isolated from the mainland, the sea islands off the coast of Georgia are home to African traditions and African American lore and song unaffected by the outside world, a slice of life from a time long gone. This tradition is kept alive by such performers as the late Bessie Jones and by Doug and Frankie Quimby, The Georgia Sea Island Singers, the featured performers for the FSGW May Program.

This husband and wife team from Brunswick, GA entertains children and adults alike by weaving together African American folk heritage and history with chants, worksongs, games, stories and spirituals of their Gullah ancestors. Doug and Frankie Quimby represent a tradition of songs and music and storytelling that appeals to everyone, including children, and we especially urge you to bring the kids along.

At the WES Auditorium, 7759 16th St. NW in DC., near Kalmia Rd. just inside the District from the Maryland line. Admission is FREE for FSGW members, $10 for non-members.

House Concert

Anthony McCann
Irish Singer Thursday May 6 • 8pm

We are fortunate to have in our midst a wonderful singer and scholar from Ireland, Anthony McCann, currently a Fellow at the Smithsonian’s Center for Folklife and Cultural Heritage. From County Down in Northern Ireland, Anthony is both a singer of traditional unaccompanied songs in Irish and English, and a songwriter who accompanies himself on guitar. Anthony also enjoys playing the bodhran in Irish music sessions. He is working on a Ph.D. at the Irish World Music Centre at the University of Limerick, and his doctoral research focuses on the processes of commercialization and commodification in Irish traditional music and song.

Come experience Anthony’s lovely singing, and his delightful wit and humor, at the lovely home of Ursy Potter in Great Falls, VA. Admission $10/$7 for FSGW members. Info: Stephanie Smith 301.229.3577. Directions: 703.821.1373.

House Concert

Holdstock & MacLeod
Sea shanties, British traditional songs, California songs Tuesday May 11 • 8pm

Allan MacLeod and Dick Holdstock have performed together for more than twenty years. Their performances reflect the rapport and polish that two performers can achieve only after working together for a good long time.

Originally from England (Holdstock) and Scotland (MacLeod) they have made Northern California their homes for over 30 years. They have performed for FSGW many times, but not in recent years. It is a delight to have them in DC again.

An evening of music, Holdstock and MacLeod style, is filled with the richness of the music of their Scottish and English roots. The songs they sing tell more clearly than any history book what the people were thinking and feeling at the time. Whether they are singing of the beauties of the countryside or the horrors of war, Holdstock and MacLeod are able to totally involve their audiences in the experience.

Their act is tight, their guitar and mandolin accompaniments are sparkling, and their stories are outrageous. They are especially expert in the performance of sea songs and shanties, but they have wide experience presenting stimulating workshops on all kinds of British traditional music.

The concert will be at the home of Bob Clayton and Jennifer Woods in Silver Spring, MD. Please call them at 301.587.7174 for directions. Admission: $10/$7 for FSGW members.

The 22nd Annual Washington Folk Festival will be held at Glen Echo Park on the 5th and 6th of June. The festival is FSGW’s largest production effort and is a major cultural event for the National Capital Area. As in past years, the festival will feature over 450 performers and crafts persons all from the Greater Washington area.

The Washington Folk Festival remains a free event; all staff and performers volunteer their services. Co-sponsored by the National Park Service, the festival is a memorable weekend of great music, dance and storytelling, celebrating the rich diversity of cultural traditions that are unique to the nation’s capital.

The festival hours are noon until 10pm on Saturday and noon until 6:00 p.m. on Sunday, rain or shine. Free satellite parking with free shuttle bus service will be available. Food and beverages can be purchased from the Park’s concessions. The Carousel will be running and the Park artists’ studios will be open. Watch for a full schedule in next month’s issue of this Newsletter.

WFF Volunteers Needed!

The Washington Folk Festival depends completely upon donations of cash and in-kind services. Volunteers are needed to assist in the preparation, operation and take-down of the event. It takes over 6,000 volunteer hours to produce the festival. Many volunteer opportunities are available during the festival weekend in such areas as hospitality, ushering, stage crews, performer check-in, crafts set-up, and festival parking. Volunteers are also needed on both Saturdays and Sundays in May for site preparation. This work includes maintenance of festival equipment, dozens of tasks at a variety of skill levels, and (everyone’s favorite) tent raising. Please consider donating some time to make this event a success. We meet at the 9am at the Maintenance shop.

To volunteer, contact Nikki Maylett at 301-270-5371 www.fsgw.org/signup. To help underwrite the financial costs of the festival and become a Friend of the Festival, contact this year’s festival coordinators Dean Clamons at 703.631.9655 or wff@fsgw.org, Beth Curren at 301.657.2789 or dwainl@aol.com.

Glen Echo Park Update

(This item is provided monthly by the National Campaign to Save Glen Echo Park (NCSGEP) in order to provide FSGW members with a quick and easy way to stay current on the status of the National Park Service (NPS) plans for Glen Echo Park)

Hundreds of faxes and phone calls by users of Glen Echo Park from all over Maryland and elsewhere have resulted in a solid success in the effort to repair Park buildings. The Maryland General Assembly budget conference committee approved $1 million in capital funds this year for the rehabilitation of Park, with a commitment for an additional $5 million in following years.

The federal and county funding of the remaining two thirds of the money still must be obtained. Please continue to write, fax or call your representatives in the U. S. Senate and House to urge funding of the Park. Be sure to include members of the U. S. Senate and House sitting on the appropriations subcommittees of the Department of the Interior.

In anticipation of near-term funds coming in, the planning process for the rehabilitation of the park is well underway. Preliminary plans have been drafted for the work. Park Cooperators are studying them and making suggestions on how best to maintain their programs.

To obtain frequently updated information and a more detailed report see the website of NCSGEP at www.w4c.com/glenecho or call 301-320-TALK for information on their next general meeting.
