SHINE!

The 31st Annual Washington Folk Festival

Showcases Area Music, Dances, Crafts, and Storytellers

June 4-5 • Free • 12-7 p.m.

The 31st Washington Folk Festival, to be held at historic Glen Echo Park, MD, will feature music, dance, storytelling, and crafts by artists who make their home in the Washington area. On seven stages, festival-goers can sample American traditions such as blues, bluegrass, swing, and string band music and take a tour around the musical world to Africa, Asia, Europe, the Middle East, South America, and more. The festival will go on, rain or shine.

Young and old will delight in the festival's unique setting at historic Glen Echo Park, founded in 1891 as a National Chautauqua Assembly and later the site of a popular amusement park. A day at the festival can include a ride on the fully restored 1921 Denzel Carousel; dancing in the art deco Spanish Ballroom; enjoying musical performances at the Cuddle Up, Crystal Pool, Puppet Theater, and other stages; listening to stories in the Ballroom addition; and exploring crafts in the Bumper Car Pavilion. There are family-oriented performances throughout the park.

Several hundred performers and artisans from the Washington area participate in the all-volunteer festival. A small sampling follows. Martin and Shan Graebe

Interesting & Uncommon English Traditional Songs

Wednesday, June 1 • 8 p.m.

Two years ago when Martin was invited to give a talk on the sea songs collected by Sabine Baring-Gould in Devon and Cornwall, for Mystic Seaport, he and Shan sang a few songs by way of illustration. They were immediately invited to sing at the Sea Music Festival that weekend, and have been invited back this year.

Martin and Shan Graebe sing together in harmony, drawing from a repertoire of interesting and uncommon English traditional songs, particularly those collected by the remarkable and controversial Victorian song-writer Sabine Baring-Gould. Martin has spent many years researching Baring-Gould's life and work and is an acknowledged authority and world-wide speaker on his folk song collection. In addition, look for them to slip in some of Martin's own songs, written in the same tradition.

Contact Dennis or Judy Cook at 301-776-4314 or cooks@ceimd.com for reservations (REQUIRED) and driving directions. Seats are held until 10-minutes before the concert.

FSGW House Concert

Larry Hanks & Deborah Robins

Concert and Potluck (6 p.m.)
Saturday, June 18 • 8 p.m.

Berkeley-based folksinger Larry Hanks has been called a “folksingers’ folksinger.” A pillar of the West coast folk scene, he has captivated audiences for five decades with his resonant bass voice, his sparse and tasteful guitar accompaniments and his loving approach to every song. Larry’s eclectic repertoire of American music includes songs of the American west, traditional and work songs, blues and political songs — comic to poignant — as well as songs from figures like Utah Phillips, Woody Guthrie, Leadbelly, Malvina Reynolds and Stephen Foster.

In this rare East-coast tour, Larry is joined by his wife and singing partner Deborah Robins, who brings her own rich talents to the mix, in both harmony and lead vocals and a second guitar. The two now perform together regularly and have a newly-released CD, “No Hiding Place” which is already garnering critical praise. Come and enjoy.

At the home of Andy and Sondra Wallace, in Largo, MD. Concert starts at 8:00 p.m., preceded by a potluck dinner beginning at 6:00 p.m. Bring a dish and drinks to share. $15 suggested donation. For reservations and directions, email andy.sondra@verizon.net or call 301.324.7311. Reservations are required as space is limited.

FUNI

Chris Foster & Bára Grímsdóttir

Traditional Songs of Iceland & England

Thursday, June 30 • 8 p.m.

FUNI (an old Icelandic word meaning fire) are Bára Grímsdóttir and Chris Foster, consummate performers of the traditional songs of Iceland and England. They are both powerful solo singers, but when they sing together, especially in the unique Icelandic tvísöngur style, the resulting blend of voices, enhanced by stunning musicianship and beautiful photographic projections, is a spellbinding mix.

Bára and Chris have been working together since 2000. They have pioneered the blending of English finger style guitar, with kantele to accompany the modal melodies of Icelandic traditional song. They also both play and are actively promoting the revival of Iceland’s two traditional instruments the Íslensk fiðla and the langspil.

Bára and Chris have performed and taught at festivals, concerts, summer schools and on radio and TV in Belgium, China, Eire, Hungary, Netherlands, Norway and the USA as well as throughout Iceland and Britain. In 2009 they started the first degree-level course on Icelandic traditional music at the Icelandic Academy of the Arts.

Contact Dennis or Judy Cook at 301-776-4314 or cooks@ceimd.com for reservations and driving directions. Seats are held until 10 minutes before the concert.

Volunteers Needed for Evening Hospitality in Support of Smithsonian Festival • June 30-July 11

FSGW volunteers have provided warm welcomes and nourishing munchies in the evening for Folklife Festival participants and staff for more than 25 years. We're on duty from first day through last – Thursday, June 30 through Monday, July 11 (yes, a week later than usual). We set up about 9 pm at the hotel (NOT the festival site) and clean up most nights at midnight (end-of-week parties go 'til 2 am). We're Metro accessible, it's very casual, and parking is free.

This year features the country of Colombia (Spanish speakers take note), The Peace Corps at 50 years, and Rhythm & Blues. The annual Ralph Rinzler Memorial Concert is dedicated to his late wife, Kate Rinzler (died December 25, 2010), and in particular her work with children's folklore.

As a volunteer, you are really, REALLY appreciated for being there. You'll meet the most interesting people and hear the best music jams. So come, represent FSGW, the Nation's Capital, and this country to our Festival visitors. It's fun and satisfying work. For more information, to donate appropriate food/drink, or to sign up for a night (or several), contact Mary Cliff at mcliff@american.edu.

Danny Spooner

Australian traditional and contemporary songs
 Sunday, July 17 • 8 p.m.

Australian folksinger Danny Spooner is an FSGW favorite—a spellbinding singer of traditional and contemporary folk songs of Britain and Australia, as well as a raconteur, reciter of Bush poetry, and teller of tales. Danny’s performances are infused with a deep understanding of social history, and enlivened by his personal warmth. His immense repertoire of songs covers the full range of human emotions and experiences.

Danny’s music reflects his long and interesting life—from his childhood in the Cockney-speaking East End of London, to a working life aboard sailing barges, tugboats, and trawlers, to his many years as a university history professor and folk performer. All these influences are reflected in his songs, and nothing pleases him more than to get an audience singing along on choruses. His ability to make traditional music seem new, and make new songs seem old, is what makes him a memorable performer indeed.

Reservations for this special house concert are a must, since the air conditioning system has limits, and Danny has many fans and friends in the area. Contact Dennis or Judy Cook at 301.776.4314 or cooks@ceimd.com for reservations and driving directions. Seats are held until 10-minutes before the concert.

Elitsa Stoyneva has performed extensively—internationally and competitively—having studied folk singing since the age of five. In 2009 she helped to form International Trio Elitsa, a group dedicated to Bulgarian folklore and connecting people of different nations. The group has won acclaim in the U.S., Canada, and Bulgaria.

Slaveya—meaning nightingale—is a local women’s vocal ensemble specializing in Eastern European a cappella folk music. Their repertoire reflects village life: the harvest, war heroes, matchmaking, birth and death; songs sung traditionally in community festivities and seasonal celebrations.

Lyuti Chushki is a group of professional musicians who have been playing together for festivals, and other events since 1997. The toe-tapping music, played on traditional Bulgarian instruments is joyful, lyrical, and compelling, created in modes and rhythms generally not found in western music.

The concert will take place at the Capitol Hill Presbyterian Church, 201 4th St., S.E., Washington, D.C. $15.
