A HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL

JANUARY PROGRAM

-KENNY HALL-

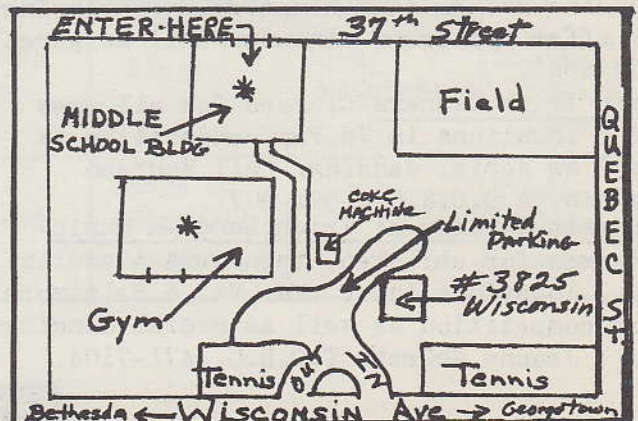

Kenny and Marta Hall are two of my favorite people, as well as two of my favorite musicians. Kenny is somewhat of a musical genius on any instrument that takes his fancy, but his two main instruments are the fiddle and the mandolin. He is unique among string band mandolin players because he plays the bowl-backed (potatoe-bug) mandolin with the nail of his index finger, -Look friends, no pick! He blows me away. Kenny was playing music at the age of 5 but he had trouble with his music teachers who didn't want him to play any of that 'hill-billy' music. The first tune he learned was 'There's a Long, Long

Trail A-winding'. After a while his teacher bowed to the inevitable and taught Kenny 20 fiddle tunes from a book called "The Home Circle". After that he was on his way.

Kenny left the California School for The Blind in 1941 and got a job at a broom factory while he settled down to learn more tunes. When he finished learning tunes from 78 rpm's of such greats as Michael Colman, Jimmy Rodgers, Uncle Dave Macon and Harry Lauder, he gave away the records to another kid who was just getting started. Kenny quit music for 20 years because "real Western music is cowboy and railroad songs, not songs about city life, broken homes and bars". However, there was a string band revival during the early '60's in the San Francisco Bay area and Larry Hanks got Kenny playing music with people like Mike Seeger, Tommy Jarrell, and Doctor Humbead's New Tranquility String Band, which included Mac Benneford and Bob Potts of the Highwoods String Band. Then Kenny went to Sweets Mill, Cal., a music camp in the Sierras where he began playing with a group of musicians, including Jim Ringer, Ron Tinkler, Cary Lund and Harry Liebstrom, which became known as the Sweets Mill String Band. Kenny has 2 records with this band on Bay records and 1 solo album recorded for Philo records. He has appeared at the San Diego Folk Festival for 12 years, Fox Hollow, the National Folk Festival, and the Smithsonian.

Kenny and Marta do mostly traditional Irish material with a lot of String Band tunes thrown in. However, you just might hear a Portuguese love song or possibly a touch of 'the singing brake man'.

The program will be on Friday, January 13th, at 8:30 P.M. at the Washington Ethical Society, 7750 16th St. (at Kalmia Rd.). Admission is free to FSGW members, $2.00 for non-members. This program is made possible by a grant from The National Endowment of the Arts.

Enjoy,
Dave

P.S. Kenny Hall, with friends will be providing the music for the Sunday night dance on January 15th, 8 p.m. See the dance column for more information.

This year's workshop topics include Banjo Styles, Carter Family Songs, Sea Shanties, Beginning dulcimer, How to make a song your own, English Country Dance and many, many others. There will be workshops of special interest to children and their parents. We will repeat last years' popular Folk Marketplace where a good selection of folk books, records, magazines, pocket instruments, and some interesting older instruments will be on sale.

The Sidwell Friends School, which generously co-sponsors this event, has two rules that we must respect: 1) No alcoholic beverages are permitted on school property and 2) ONLY tennis shoes or other soft light-colored soled shoes are permitted on the gym floor. Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated.

John McCutcheon will be calling the Saturday night dance and will call mainly Southern Mountain Squares and Circles.

Remember! All workshop leaders will be asking you to join in, so bring: A) your voices, B) your instruments, C) your questions and D) your sneakers. For additional information call Debbie Hutton at 270-2217.

ABOUT HOUSE CONCERTS

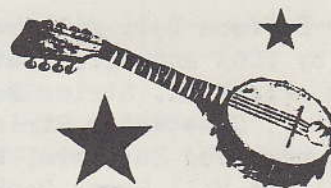

Many FSGW members have never taken advantage of one of the most valuable benefits of their memberships. House concerts are held occasionally in members' homes and they are never advertised outside of our newsletter. Past performers have included Martin Carthy, Heather Wood, Tony Salatin, Barbara Carns, Faith Petrick, all first class musicians who for some reason could not be scheduled for a larger concert (& many performers seem to prefer house concerts). The intimate atmosphere of such concerts closely reflects the original function of folk music, singing at home for family and friends. Several concerts are planned for the new year, so watch the newsletter, call for directions, bring a pillow and come enjoy a fine concert.

PETE SEEGER WORKSHOP

Pete Seeger and "Sweet Honey in the Rock" will be giving a workshop on "American Protest Songs" from 4:30-5:30 p.m., January 8th at the Hirschorn Museum s auditorium. Tickets will be distributed on a first come, first serve basis, beginning at 3:30 at the museum. The 8 p.m. Pete Seeger concert being held at the Baird Auditorium that night is, unfortunately, already sold out....

HOWEVER.....

PETE SEEGER AND ARLO GUTHRIE will be in concert together, for the first time in Washington since 1975, on Saturday, February 11th., 8 p.m., at Constitution Hall. Tickets will go on sale on or about Jan. 22nd. at Ticketron and Calbert Ticket Agency (located in the Washington Hotel, 15th and Pennsylvania). Ticket prices are $6.50 and $5.50. The concert is sponsored by Stanley-Williams Presentations.

MAGGI PEIRCE HOUSE CONCERT

Maggi, who will sing for children at a morning program, will perform for adults at a house concert on Saturday, Jan. 21st. at 8:30 in Chevy Chase, Md. Maggi hails from Ireland and does songs and stories from there, as well as others she has collected throughout the British Isles. It is sure to be a delightful evening. Call Debbie at 270-2217 for further information, or Susan & George Schwelling at 657-8551 for directions to their house. Admission will be $2.00 for members and $3.00 for non-members.
