Contraststock-A New Tradition

With Comments from its Creator, Will Mentor

Sunday, September 23
1-11:30 pm Spanish Ballroom
Glen Echo Park, MD

On September 23, thanks to the efforts of Dance Chair Penelope Weinberger and her able committee, this Folklore Society will produce one of the most exciting contra dance events on the East Coast, Contraststock 2. The dance features an all-star lineup of bands and callers to include Perpetual eMotion, Wild Asparagus, and Elixir, with Will Mentor, Nils Fredland and George Marshall calling. Contraststock 1, which took place in May 2011, followed the same formula and presented top-notch bands and callers all on one stage in one day—and many people claimed it was the best dance event they had ever attended! The energy was incredible, the crowd high was exhilarating and the end of the night jam?—Fantastic! (Nils Fredland crowdsurfing WAS pretty spectacular! He DOVE off also the stage! Suddenly!)

Will Mentor

So, who's to "blame" for all this? An art professor from Vermont who is also one of the most respected and sought-after callers in the dance community, Will Mentor. Will is well-known for his clear teaching, upbeat wit, and relaxed stage presence. He's been calling since 1995, and although he makes his craft appear effortless, it is, as with most professionals, a skill that comes from hours of work behind the scenes.

Keep Cool at Contrastock

By Laura Schultz
Nutritional Coach, Teacher, Dancer, Overall Enthusiast

It's been a hot summer in the Spanish Ball Room, and with Contrastock 2 coming up soon we want to consider how to stay cool, hydrated and energetic during this long (10 hour), exhilarating, and possibly very warm, day of dance.

When guzzling water gives you that queasy, sloshy feeling, a sports drink provides quicker absorption and a few carbs for quick energy. But commercial varieties have all that artificial color and flavoring. Here's a homemade version that's quick to make and tastes good without being overly sweet. It's what's in my water bottle on hot nights, and what will keep me going on September 23.

For 1 liter:

2 cups of hot water steeped with 2 herbal tea bags of choice (I like ginger, it has been shown to be as anti-inflammatory as ibuprofen!)

Add 2-3 T of honey, a pinch of sea salt and the juice of 1 lemon or half an orange.

Fill with cold filtered water and ice to make 1 liter.

About Me

How did dancing and nutrition come to be my twin passions? It all started with four words: "That looks like fun." It seemed like such an obvious thing to say after watching the Arlington Northwest Morris Women dance, but little did I know how those words would change my life. One practice later I was hooked, bad.

Within 6 months I was signed up for dance camp. Off I went, with our team foreman, Laura Parsons, assuring me it would all be fine, that I would just LOVE camp. I will always be grateful for the patience of the other campers that year. I was in a constant state of overwhelm, and exhilaration. Yes, I did

LOVE camp!

That was almost seven years ago, and I have been to camp every summer since. I've danced at folk festivals and Morris ales. My car can drive itself to Glen Echo. I've traveled to dance weekends and co-chaired the Washington Spring Ball. I've even tried calling a few English dances myself.

Dancing has brought many things into my life I didn't even know I was missing: play, movement, community, and lots of music. I learned to connect to my body in ways I had forgotten. I've learned new skills and taken on new roles. I have been transformed over the past seven years into a more complex and, I feel, complete person.

Along with all this dancing, I've traveled another complementary path. My interest in the human body extends beyond teaching human anatomy to high school students, which is my day gig, or moving my limbs to a driving slip jig. I have always been fascinated with food and how the body nourishes itself. I feel our bodies should have the same joyful, nourishing relationship with food that they have with music and dance.

I have recently received a master's degree in nutrition and also completed a program in health coaching. I have taken a big leap and cut back my teaching hours to start a health coaching business, Abundant Wellness Coaching. My experience with the dance community gets much of the credit for giving me the "chutzpah" to do such a crazy thing.

So I want to give back, and assure that we dancers nourish our bodies in ways that keep us dancing for a long, long time. Drink up and stay cool!

48TH ANNUAL GETAWAY

A Wonderful Weekend of Music, Fun and Friendship
Friday, September 28 – Monday, October 1, 2012
West River Conference Center, West River, Maryland

Joining an impromptu chorus with a roomful of friends...chatting over lunch with a singer you've always admired... finding out the history of a song you've wondered about for years... relaxing under a tree by the water's edge... learning a new guitar technique... singing your most recently-acquired song for an appreciative audience... staying up late jamming and laughing... getting some tips for improving your singing... enjoying the company of dear friends you see once a year, and those you've just met...

These are just a few of the things you can expect at the 2012 FSGW Getaway, which one of our friends from California has described as "a gathering of musicians, and all attendees are 'just folks,' whether they are professional musicians or shower singers."

The weekend starts off on Friday evening with a pot-luck supper and a big open sing. Saturday and Sunday we have a full program of informal participatory workshops, mini-concerts, song circles, and jam sessions, with 3 or 4 (and sometimes 5) events occurring simultaneously, so there's always plenty to choose from. Each evening we have sign-up concerts – a chance to show us all what you can do – and lots of spontaneous songfests and jam sessions until the wee hours. There are CDs and some instruments and crafts for sale, and a silent auction to benefit our scholarship fund – bring an item to donate and take a different one home!

We're hoping to encourage more folks to bring their kids – or grandkids – and want to plan appropriate activities for them, so do let us know in advance how many children you'll be bringing, and their ages.

We have some very special guests this year: the delightful duo of Ann Mayo Muir and Christina Muir; one of our favorite singing families, The Beans ( Jim and Cindy Bean and Steve Sullwold);

Will Mentor talked about how he came up with the idea for Contrastock 2 in a recent interview. He says:

“Every year I watch Woodstock, the 1970 documentary made during the Woodstock music festival. Woodstock was a concert with an all-star lineup of progressive popular musicians playing to an unimaginably large group of people who more or less agreed to “let it all hang out.” This dynamic between skilled music and passionate audience is echoed in large contradance events. We don’t have millions of people, readily available hallucinogens and an overt political glue, but maybe we have something better—the special feeling of hundreds of dancers moving, more or less in sync with each other, to great music. Small dances can be—and are—often special. I love them. But they cannot amplify that communal feeling to the extent a large group can.

“The idea for this event popped into my head while on stage with Giant Robot Dance at the Dance Flurry three years ago. When I got home, I immediately e-mailed Perpetual e-Motion, Giant Robot Dance and Nils Fredland to create a fully formed event and shop it to organizers (a new concept in dance organizing). Countless e-mails later, we had a date. Now it was time to find a venue.

“Glen Echo, due to its size and architecture, makes for a unique event and allows for the experience I described. Although dancers come from all over, the core of DC-area dancers are really skilled and friendly. Contrastock is an attempt to have many motivated dancers move to contemporary bands that have a progressive relationship to the traditions they steward. In fact, at this years Contrastock, besides many perennial favorites, I will probably run out a couple of my new dances with transitions that I am not sure have ever been done before. Or at least done in contra dancing. And I’ll be looking to nurture the new dancers while keeping the skilled dancers interested.

“Finally—is Penelope Weinberger a force to be reckoned with or what!!! Great organizer. Now it’s Penelope’s baby.... and by the way, it was all her idea last year to have the massive potluck and not just make it an event of constant dancing. It was great to take a break and enjoy food and drink with each other.”

And from Penelope: “When I initially heard the idea, I was jazzed, but of course, I had no idea what I was getting into, I just enthusiastically said “YES”! Last year, the scheduling was pretty nightmarish, but in the end it turned out better than we thought it would since Swallowtail was able to play along with Giant Robot Dance and Perpetual e-Motion”.

Any final comments, Will and Penelope?

Penelope: “I could never do my job without my dance committee, Dan Kahn and the Door Committee...and Erik and my family. They are my sanity, which, if you know me personally, is saying a lot!”

And from Will: “I’d just like to know...can I be the one to crowd surf this year?” (smile)

The Contrastock Schedule is as follows:

1 p.m.— Wild Asparagus with George Marshall calling

3:40— Perpetual e-Motion with Will Mentor calling

6 p.m.— Community potluck dinner

7 p.m. — Elixir with Nils Fredland calling

9:40— All three bands in a Hoe-Down Set while the callers bring out their best to cap off an amazing day!

ORPHEUS SUPERTONES

Saturday, September 1

Potluck at 7 pm, Concert at 8 pm

At Mount Lubentia, the home of Andy and Sondra Wallace, Largo, MD

It was said of Orpheus, the Greek god of music, that he could charm the birds, fish and wild beasts and coax the trees and rocks to dance. The Orpheus Supertones create the same magic. They are six-time prize winners at the Appalachian String Band Festival in Clifftop, WV, and are one of the finest old-time bands ever to come down the pike.

The band members are: Walt Koken, fiddler and banjo player, founder of the Highwoods Stringband, who became a seminal influence and inspiration to banjo players and fiddlers worldwide; Clare Milliner, fiddler and researcher who worked with Walt to create the monumental Milliner-Koken Collection of American Fiddle Tunes; Pete Peterson, banjo picker and singer, who plays one of Charlie Poole's banjos in Poole's style; Kellie Allen, traditional singer and guitarist known for her Riley Puckett-esque guitar playing; and Hilary Dirlam, once of the Arm and Hammer String Band and now bass player for the Orpheus Supertones.

Bluegrass Unlimited said: "Orpheus Supertones have captured the essence of early country music." They have produced three critically-acclaimed CDs, all on the Mudthumper label, and in addition to Clifftop, they have won numerous prizes at many other old-time music contests. Individual members have won ribbons in fiddle, banjo, bass playing, and vocals throughout the southeastern United States.

For reservations (required) and directions, e-mail andy.sondra@verizon.net, or call 301-324-7311. Mt. Lubentia is a historic property in Largo, MD. Suggested donation $15.

Meteora

Beautiful Voices in Harmony

Tuesday, October 2 • 8 pm

Downtown Silver Spring, MD

After attending the FSGW Getaway as special guests, Kat Logan, Jim Loney, and Will Brown — together known as Meteora — will stay around for another couple of days in order to present a house concert at the home of Lorraine Van Buren and George Rathbone in Silver Spring.

This wonderful trio from Maine presents beautiful harmonies in many genres. The group's name is a Greek word meaning "suspended in the air," and that's a great description of their music. All of them have fine voices, and they blend perfectly. Kat, Jim, and Will have been singing together informally for several years, and became an official performing trio earlier this year. Their repertoire is varied — everything from blues to original compositions to songs in other languages, and probably a few surprises as well. Some of the songs are accompanied by fine guitar work, and others are done a cappella.

If you see Meteora at the Getaway, you'll surely want more. And if you miss that weekend, this concert is your chance for a fine evening of music.

Suggested donation: $15 (more if you wish — all the money goes to the performers). Please call Lorraine or George at 301.495.2820 for directions. Near the Silver Spring Metro Station on the Red Line.

BOARD MEETING HIGHLIGHTS

The Board met on August 8. Present were President Mary Cliff, Vice President Sue McIver, Treasurer Richard Aigen and Past Treasurer Jerry Stein, Publicity Chair Liz Milner, Membership Chair RosieLee Salinas, and Members-at-Large Leslie Root, Janie Meneely and Peter Maier. Also present was Washington Folk Festival Chair Dwain Winters.

*The Board discussed adoption of a Ride Share model for transportation to and from events. Peter Maier has been investigating the potential liabilities for FSGW.

- RosieLee Salinas is working with Web Administration to retrieve numbers from the database in such a way that they can be organized and accurately analyzed. A proposal was made to draw up a manual that would establish a data entry protocol.

- Dwain Winters discussed the highly successful Washington Folk Festival. He acknowledged that the schedule for the buses running between the festival and the parking areas remains problematic, and discussed ways to improve the carrying capacity next year. There was a minor shortfall which he hopes will be covered by the Friends of the Folk Festival appeal in the spring. The board voted unanimously to reauthorize the Folk Festival for 2013.

- Publicity: Liz Milner continues working on interfacing assorted Facebook pages. She has contacted various sites that might be willing to distribute FSGW flyers as well as post info about FSGW on various webpages: Culture Capital and Fairfax Library among others.

- Treasurer: The annual budget meeting will be held soon.

- Old Business: Sound Equipment: The board is asking various committees to inventory sound equipment so the board can ascertain what needs to be replaced, stored, mended, etc.

The next meeting will be held at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, September 4.
